For a forthcoming issue of the volume on essays on Women against War System we invite contributions, either theoretically, empirically or practically oriented, and from various disciplinary perspectives that address the complex and dynamic question of Women against war system.

We propose that contributions may wish to address the following questions but are by no means limited to them:

- Critics of patriarchal society and war system;
- Women as weapons of war;
- Women refuges and human rights;
- Women as refuges - experience, hopes and future possibilities;
- New models and good practices of civil movements and initiatives (learning from past experiences);
- Conflict transformation and peace building, women as mediators in peace building process;
- Democratization and women issue in post-war societies;
- The role of religion in war and post-war societies regarding women issue
- Women's voices from war and post-war societies
- Violence and vulnerability of women, physical, cultural and structural violence against women.

Papers are welcome of 6-8000 words (excluding footnotes and references) and shorter papers of 3-4000 words in which the authors present their views on one specific issue.

Abstracts should be submitted to: maja.lamberger@guest.arnes.si

Full papers should be submitted by 30 June 2016 and emailed in Word attachment to:

maja.lamberger@guest.arnes.si

Notification of acceptance will be given by the end of August 2016.

We will be happy when you pass this information to other fellow researchers and give them the opportunity to publish in this volume of essays as well.

Looking forward to our fruitful cooperation.

Papers will be published in an edited volume with one of the international presses.
