Starting date: Immediately

Deadline: September 2021

Organization: Nazra for Feminist Studies

Location: Home Town Based

About Nazra:

Nazra for Feminist Studies is an Egyptian Organization that explored its work since 2007 as a young group that aims to sustain and strengthen the Egyptian and regional feminist movement in the Middle East and North Africa, believing that feminism and gender are political and social issues that affect freedom and development in all societies and aiming to mainstream these values in both public and private spheres.

Task Summary:

Nazra is looking for a qualified candidate to review its “Regional Manual on Monitoring and Documentation in the MENA Region” and develop the part concerning documentation in conflict zones, where gender based violence and sexual violence ratio increased as one of Covid-19 consequences, in order to produce a particular one about Monitoring and Documentation of Sexual Violence in Conflict Zones based on the recent changes and the conflict contexts sensitivity. Case study on at least two countries from the region.

An annex would be added to tackle and analyze the feminist movement’s role and struggle to combat that issue and how that was reflected on the policies and legislation before and after Covid-19.

Qualifications:

1. Master’s Degree in social sciences or a related field. Preferred in public policy or gender.
2. Wide work experience in regards with the topic.

3. Good knowledge on Feminist and Gender issues as well as Feminist Movement in the MENA Region, conflict zones in particular
4. Well updated by the essential development and changes in regards with the topic on social, political and legislative levels
5. Respecting women's diverse identities, ethnics, backgrounds and experiences
6. Fluent Arabic language (excellent verbal and written communication skills).
7. Ability to work independently but also being collaborative to reach the work aim and stick to deadlines.
8. Transparency, accountability and commitment to evaluate and communicate the research paper outcomes to meet Nazra's goal and values.

Responsibilities:

The researcher / consultant together with Nazra's Founder and Executive Director will discuss openly and clearly the topic, setting the manual/research purpose, the appropriate methodology and the expected word number that will be in line with the content.

Based on the discussion the researcher/consultant will be responsible to:

1. Design and develop the manual/research plan and methodology.
2. Conducting online interviews with the concerned stakeholders, actors, including feminist activists and survivors (Names list will be discussed before and approved by Nazra).
3. Sticking to deadlines, that should be changed by Nazra's previous approval
4. Delivering a first draft to be developed and a final version on the agreed dates.

C.V / Resume shall be sent to info@nazra.org
